Mobile Learning – Innovation for sustainable learning

The key success factor for sustainable learning is for participants to apply their insights and learning in the business context. By providing a mobile learning platform for smartphones and tablets, we support participants so that they are able to always access their action plans and learned content. New experiences are retained better when they are memorized and rehearsed. When participants can access this content, they are motivated to apply the success-oriented behaviour, implementing and applying the learning in everyday situations.

The 3Ecoach contains:

- Key concepts and content of the seminar/workshop in a very condensed format.
- Individual learning and personal action plans are always easily accessible and present.
- History of the individual learning process.

3Ecoach means Education, Exposure, Experience
